Celebrating Caregivers

DEBBIE LOGEL BUTLER

Executive Director

“There was so much I didn’t know and wasn’t prepared for. I had no time to think, I just had to do. I lost myself and my partner to this terrible disease.” ~ Corrine CAP client and caregiver

When facing a cancer diagnosis, each family has a unique story, but one thing continues to be true, CANCER CANNOT BE MANAGED ALONE. With the persistent challenges COVID placed on our healthcare system, care has shifted, and continues to shift from the formal health system (hospital) to the home. Family and friends, forced by circumstances, must now provide care that has traditionally be delivered by trained providers in a hospital. In addition to that vital health care, many are finding that they are increasingly a source of psychosocial, practical and even financial support.

This level of care and support comes with tremendous strain as they balance the demands of caregiving with their traditional role of mother, father, sibling, child, spouse, and as an employee working outside the home. Every day brings new challenges that they are forced to manage while continuing life as it was before a cancer diagnosis.

This past year, the staff and volunteers at CAP have had the privilege and honour of meeting many of the caregivers who are the unsung heroes in a family members’ journey. These ‘heroes’ are so grateful when they talk to our client services and equipment volunteers as they come to realize that we can provide so many supports, like a bath chair or rollator, a wig or nutritional supplements, all of which can make an immense difference in the everyday life of their family member. This gratefulness is further acknowledged when they meet our volunteer drivers for what, in many cases can be weeks of daily drives provided to their family member for any cancer related appointments enabling caregivers the opportunity to not have to attend more routine appointments, providing them opportunity to work, rest, or just care for themselves. The ability to support these caregivers with help to establish a safe routine, to achieve some normalcy and the offering of kind and comforting words from our staff and volunteers is what makes me most proud each and every day.

With our economy struggling to regain in a post pandemic world, more and more cancer patients and their caregivers are reaching out to CAP to help navigate the cancer journey. CAP is meeting this unprecedented need. Our free supports provide an economic savings for families at a time when financial toxicity is significant.

In 2022 the Cancer Assistance Program saved cancer patients and their caregivers over $830,000 by offering many, many practical services for free. These services included 8,934 rides to cancer related appointments and treatments, 3,865 six packs of nutrition and over 2,322 pieces of equipment to name a few. While financial stress is clearly assisted, the emotional support offered to caregivers is truly priceless.

I would like to extend my deepest gratitude to the staff and volunteers who become the extension of a cancer patients circle of support. It truly is an honour to assist these families with the practical services that CAP has been providing in our community for over 28 years.

To the Board of Directors, under the leadership of Ray Hutton, I would like to thank you for your confidence and support in the work of the CAP team to provide the very best service to the thousands of caregivers who often “don’t know what to do and where to turn”.

To our donors, both new and longstanding, without your financial support we would not be able to raise the needed funds to manage the increased demand of our services.

As you read this year’s annual report and the stories of our heroes; the caregivers, our volunteers, our health care partners and our donors remember that each and everyone plays an important role in a cancer patient’s circle of support.

With admiration and gratitude,

Debbie Logel Butler

Celebrating Caregivers

RAY HUTTON
Board President

Dear Clients, Volunteers and Donors,

As we reflect on the past year, we recognize the incredible challenges faced by those impacted by cancer, and particularly the vital role that family caregivers play in providing support to their loved ones. At the Cancer Assistance Program (CAP), we understand that cancer cannot be managed alone, and we are committed to providing practical, emotional, and financial support to those who need it most.

I would like to take this opportunity to honor the guidance of our past president Michael Ecker, who led CAP with passion and dedication. Under his leadership, CAP grew to become a vital resource for cancer patients and their families in our community. I am proud to continue his legacy, working alongside our incredible Executive Director, Debbie Logel Butler, and our diverse and dedicated board of directors, who play an essential role in ensuring the effective governance and continued success of our organization.

I would also like to acknowledge the invaluable contribution of our volunteers, who selflessly give their time and energy to support our clients. As Debbie mentioned, our volunteer drivers provide thousands of rides to cancer-related appointments, easing the burden on family caregivers and ensuring that patients can access the care they need. Our client services and equipment volunteers help to provide practical supports that make a significant difference in the everyday lives of those affected by cancer. Our energetic and committed event volunteers work tirelessly to help CAP with our signature events to support our fundraising efforts.

The past year has been particularly challenging for caregivers, as the COVID-19 pandemic has forced many to provide care in a new and often isolating environment. At CAP, we are committed to providing caregivers with the resources they need to manage this additional burden, including access to equipment and supplies, practical and emotional support, and connection to a community of others who understand their experiences.

Finally, I would like to express my deep gratitude to our donors, who make it possible for us to provide these critical supports to those in need.

As we look to the year ahead, we remain committed to our mission of supporting those affected by cancer in our community. We will continue to work tirelessly to ensure that no one faces cancer alone, and that caregivers receive the support they need to manage the challenges of this disease.

Sincerely,

Community Support is a Johnston Family Philosophy

While there has been much research success positively impacting early diagnosis and treatment of cancer, the reality is that the incidence of cancer continues to grow. Cancer Care Ontario predicts that new cancer cases will increase by 25.4% over the next 10 years. The positive results of early diagnosis and these new treatments are that more and more of those diagnosed are living longer with the disease.

Both of these facts reinforce how important CAP is in a cancer patient and their family's journey. Today more people than ever are registering with us for supports and many of these people stay as our clients for a long period of time. Our ability to meet the continually growing demand for our supports is only made possible by the generosity of our community. Quite often these are families who have themselves been touched by cancer and have experienced first-hand the importance of the free, practical, and tangible supports that CAP provides in the day-to-day management of a cancer diagnosis.

In 1997 Jim Johnston was diagnosed with prostate cancer. Twenty-six years ago Jim was a young man who never expected such a curve in life. Like so many who are diagnosed it was a life-altering experience:

“When something that big happens to you, you question things, you question what you really value. I came away from that with two main resolves, to live life to its fullest and to help those who have a diagnosis who don't have the capacity to help themselves.”

As Jim and his wife Marlene were dealing with his diagnosis and recovery they heard about CAP. While they didn't need to use CAP's services, they immediately saw the value CAP offered to so many in the community and they vowed to help wherever they could.

From then on Jim, Marlene and their family have been as committed to CAP as they have been to our community. Since 1923 Jim's family has been the dealer owner of Johnston Chrysler Dodge Jeep. A true legacy that has been driven by a commitment to making a difference, not just by helping families purchase and own a new vehicle, but also by ensuring that whenever they can they are making a difference in the lives of all those who need support.

In 2007 life threw them another curve - Marlene was diagnosed with breast cancer. In Jim's words - “and that just strengthened our resolve to help. We were made aware of CAP's supports, such as parking assistance or a wig. We didn't need to use them, but we did experience first-hand how valuable that kind of assistance is.”

Jim and Marlene Johnston

Both Jim and Marlene's resolve to help wherever they could was further heightened and for that we are ever so grateful. This legacy has been passed down to their children and grandchildren as they live by example their philosophy of 'where there is a need you step up'.

“ Cancer is present every day. It's not going away. We've been to the CAP office. We've seen the things they give cancer patients. There are so many who are challenged to be able to afford such items. The community has been good to us so we must give back to the community.”

Their commitment to CAP began with golf decades ago after Jim's diagnosis and it has never wavered. They have never ever said no to us. When CAP chose to undertake a Gala fundraiser we reached out and without hesitation they came on board as our Presenting Sponsor. When we needed to restart our Drive programs during COVID and were seeking advice on the best and safest options Jim was there to provide guidance.

CAP does not receive any sustainable government funding, relying on the generosity of donors like Jim, Marlene, and the Johnston Chrysler Dodge Jeep family to help us raise the necessary funds to continue to provide a growing number of cancer patients and their families with FREE tangible and practical supports.

Jim, Marlene and the Johnston Chrysler Dodge Jeep family's philanthropic leadership in our community is immeasurable. CAP is forever grateful for their generosity, for it is people like the Johnston's who ensure that every single day we can live our mission of 'help when you really need it'.

Volunteer Spotlight

From day one, CAP has been fortunate to have the support of an amazing team of volunteers who give generously of their time and talents to help cancer patients and their families when they really need it. Arguably, the CAP community features some of the most loyal and deeply committed individuals in the Hamilton area. Year over year, we are astounded by the incredible contribution they make toward our cause. Last year was certainly no exception, with an extraordinary 19,667 hours donated.

Like so many things, the COVID pandemic had a devastating impact on volunteerism across the world, CAP included. At the onset of 2022, our volunteer base sat at nearly 20% below the usual threshold. However, after a steady recruitment campaign, coupled with the return of some resolute volunteers, CAP's numbers were quickly restored to over 150 members by year end.

As the front line of our organization, our volunteers are often the first point of contact for many of the families reaching out for our services. For most, the listening ear and compassion filled interaction becomes a lifeline of support.

"Thank you so much for all your assistance and understanding during my Dad's treatment. We could not have done it without you!" ~ Family member of CAP client

2022 Senior of the Year winner, volunteer Rose Sands is just one shining example of the type of interaction our clients and their families receive when they come to CAP for support. For over 16 years, Rose has helped support and grow CAP's wig and prosthesis program by providing a safe, welcoming, and private space. For caregivers, the hardship of watching a family member struggle with the sadness that accompanies a cancer journey comes with a heavy emotional toll. Their greatest wish, "to see their loved one smile", is just one of the reasons Rose works so hard to ensure clients leave with a renewed sense of confidence.

To ensure impactful interactions for our clients and their caregivers continue, maintaining a meaningful volunteer experience is always a priority. To gain a better understanding of what inspires our volunteers to give so freely of themselves, we asked what they personally gained from the experience. Overwhelmingly, their response was the same; that volunteering at CAP "gives a great sense of purpose" and it is rewarding to know they are "giving back in way that helps those who need it." The evidence is clear, at the heart of it all, CAP volunteers just want to help.
